

Hadleigh Infants and Nursery School

Newsletter No 36 - 7th July 2023

Message from Mrs Fynn

This week I have been writing comments on each child's report in preparation for you receiving them next week. It has been a both a huge job and a pleasure reflecting on the progress that the children have made over the course of this year. However, we still have two weeks of this school year left and they are action packed. Highlights include the Local Charity Day, Year 2's trip and Break the Rules day next week. The following week there is even more to come.

My favourite moment of this week was seeing the exhausted but happy faces of the Year 1 children as they arrived back from their trip. One child was keen to tell me "It was the best day ever". Teachers also had a fantastic day, they have told me that the children behaved beautifully and made them feel proud to be HINS teachers. Photos will be added to Instagram and Facebook.

A less positive piece of news is that HINS has been visited by vandals several times this week, equipment and resources have been destroyed including some lovely flower pots that the children had taken pride in planting. This is really upsetting for our whole community. If you do happen to see people on site out of hours we would really appreciate it if you call 101 and report it.

The beautiful thing about learning is that no one can take it away from you.
